

Aaron Goldberg

Pianist and composer Aaron Goldberg is performing at the vanguard of jazz music. His band comprises two of the premier voices of his generation, bassist Reuben Rogers and drummer Eric Harland. Recently Aaron released his Sunnyside Records debut album, Worlds, which exhibits the sensitivity and dynamism of this longstanding trio. In addition to heading his trio, Aaron has spent the last 10 years touring with many of the most brilliant voices in jazz—Joshua Redman, Wynton Marsalis, Betty Carter, Nicholas Payton, Al Foster, Stefon Harris, Kurt Rosenwinkel and Madeleine Peyroux among others.

On his latest album, Worlds, Aaron has adopted the global and made it personal. With an eye tuned to his sociopolitical environment, he hopes to have an impact not in the jazz world and beyond.

“Selfless in all the right ways. Doesn’t set out to demonstrate virtuosity, speed, or heat, though all three are at his disposal. He’s versatile and impressive, and he swings hard. A sharp young pianist with a superb rhythm section. Goldberg has honed his trio to a fine point over the years.”
